Legislative basis for suspension

- The Education Act 2004 was amended on 23 February 2010 to delegate authority to principals to suspend students from ACT public schools for up to 15 continuous days.
- In light of the Legislative changes, Directorate policy and supporting documentation has been reviewed and now includes:
 - procedures for principals suspending students for up to 15 days
 - notification procedures if suspending a student with a diagnosed disability
 - notification procedures if suspending students in care.

- Principals of schools may recommend to the Director-General or delegate (Executive Director Learning, Teaching and Student Engagement) that a student be suspended for up to twenty days.
- If a student is suspended for seven or more days in a school term the Director-General or delegate must provide reasonable access to counselling.
- A re-entry meeting must be convened by the principal on return to school.
- The principal may recommend to the Director-General that a student be transferred to another public school when suspensions have been inadequate and severely inappropriate behaviour patterns have become entrenched.
- Reasonable attempts must be made to inform parents/carers of the decision and their right to appeal.
- Principals may also recommend to the Director-General that a student be excluded from all public schools. There were no recommendations to exclude made from 2008 to 2012.
