

Triple Bottom Line (TBL) Assessment Summary

The Triple Bottom Line Assessment is required to be published in accordance with Part 4, section 23 (1)(b) of the Freedom of Information Act 2016

20/235 Redress Scheme – engagement with non-government institutions

Summary of impacts:

The proposed engagement strategy will have a positive social impact, no impact on the economy and no impact on the environment.

Level of impact	Positive	Negative	Neutral
------------------------	-----------------	-----------------	----------------

Social

Level of impact	Impact	Summary
	Health (Community and mental health)	The engagement strategy will have a positive impact on the health and mental health of applicants to the National Redress Scheme by supporting access to redress from responsible non-government institutions.
	Access to services	The engagement strategy will have a positive impact on access to services for applicants to the National Redress Scheme by supporting access to redress (including counselling) from responsible non-government institutions.
	Access to social inclusion/participation and community activities	The engagement strategy will have a positive impact on social inclusion of applicants to the National Redress Scheme by supporting access to redress from responsible non-government institutions.
	Impacts on different age groups	The National Redress Scheme affects adults who were sexually abused as children in institutional care.
	Justice and Crime	The engagement strategy will have a positive impact on applicants to the National Redress Scheme by supporting access to redress from responsible non-government institutions for those who have been sexually abused as children in institutional care. The Scheme provides a trauma informed process to access redress which does not require the applicant to take traditional legal proceedings.

Economic Nil Impacts

Environmental Nil Impacts