Subject: RE: tracking down request for ILO reports

Thanks Jake.

I was asking because I got this on 30 July:

Minister Shorten is in the process of writing to your Ministers formally requesting a Law and Practice Report as well as an indication of each jurisdiction's support for Australia's ratification of Convention 177. We will forward a copy of this letter once it has been sent.

And this on 27 August:

Following on from the decision made at the SCWR meeting on 6 July, your Ministers should shortly receive a letter from Minister Shorten to formally request Law and Practice Reports and support for ratification of Convention 177 (Home Work), Convention 176 (OHS in Mining) and Convention 152 (OHS in Dock Work) by Friday 30 November 2012.

As I had not received electronic copies of the documents, I assumed that the letter hadn't been received (or perhaps even sent) but thought that I better check with you before I contact the Commonwealth.

Dear Minister

At the last Select Council on Workplace Relations meeting on 17 August 2012, I indicated that I would continue to consult with State and Territory Governments in relation to the Post Implementation Review of the Fair Work Act 2009 Report (PIR Report) and its recommendations.

In this context, I am writing to seek your views in relation to Recommendation 8 which provides:

The Panel recommends the Government consider limiting the number of public holidays under the NES to a nationally consistent number of 11.

This recommendation is one that is particularly relevant to States and Territories because, as the PIR Report notes, the issue it seeks to address has been caused by the proclamation of additional public holidays in state and territory jurisdictions. The PIR Report states at page 102:

A large number of employers indicated concern about arrangements for the payment of public holidays. Employers' concerns were generally about the ability for state and territory governments to declare additional public holidays under s.115(1)(b) of the FW Act to those provided under s.115(1)(a), and the resultant increase in wage costs due to penalty rates then applying under modern awards.

I enclose for your reference a copy of the Australian Government's submissions to the Fair Work Australia review of modern awards in respect of public holiday protections and penalty rates in modern awards.

I understand that your Government proclaimed 13 public holidays in 2012 and 2011. As public holidays in your Territory are declared by your Government I am seeking as a priority confirmation of your position in relation to:

- Whether the Recommendation should be supported or opposed;
- If you do support the Recommendation could you please indicate in your response which particular public holidays in your jurisdiction you think should not attract penalty rates.

Thanks – we will get onto it.

The Minister could reply pointing out we are in caretaker and addressing only historical issues.

No matter who replies, the ACT Government cannot answer this with a policy position in the specified timeframe. I will need to be dealt with by the incoming government as a matter of priority.

I note the Caretaker Guidelines also prevent us from providing policy advice on which holidays should or should not attract penalty rates (or be proclaimed at all)

Making Canberra Even Stronger

ACT Labor Statement of commitment:
Industrial Relations

ACT Labor's commitment to fairer, safer workplaces

ACT Labor is building a better community, one which has a strong local economy. We want to create more jobs than ever before. Canberrans enjoy a high standard of living, with record levels of investment in infrastructure which means our city is thriving. We are well prepared to meet the needs of all Canberrans by investing now in what we will need tomorrow.

We have a proven record of seeking to protect and to extend the rights, benefits and entitlements of public and private sector workers. That includes salaries, working conditions, leave entitlements, occupational health and safety, and workers compensation.

We have fostered an industrial relations system in the ACT which encourages employers and employees to work together for safety and fairness so that workers and employers can share in the returns of our strong economy.

Providing a safe environment for workers remains a priority for ACT Labor.

ACT Labor has already announced a major inquiry into ACT health and safety laws in the local construction industry to look at how we can better protect building workers. We have also committed to establishing an Industrial Magistrate's Court and will appoint a dedicated industrial magistrates.

But there is more to do.

ACT Labor and organised labour work together in the knowledge that the only asset possessed by workers is their labour and that the wage they derive from that labour is the income of working families.

It is important, therefore, not only that income be protected but also that workers be protected in their workplaces from danger and injury.

If re-elected in 2012, ACT Labor will continue to protect workers' rights and entitlements and work to strengthen our economy and drive growth to create local jobs.

We will continue to ensure our workplace safety laws are the best in the country, improve our procurement processes, expand and develop trades skills, continue to campaign on asbestos, and extend long service leave to aged care workers and waste workers.

We will also fight to protect local jobs and diversify our economy to ensure we are less vulnerable to Liberal job cuts in Canberra.

Workplace health and safety

Safeguarding the welfare of workers and working families is a priority for ACT Labor. Disruption to the income earning capacity of working family members can be a serious blow to the economic stability of households. ACT Labor has worked hard to make our workplace safety laws amongst the best in the country but there is more to do.

ACT Labor will:

- Strengthen the current arrangements for workplace inspection between the ESDD Construction Services, the ACT Long Service Leave Authority and WorkSafe ACT in order to maximise the resources available for ensuring compliance and enforcement of workplace industrial relations and safety laws;
- Establish a statutory obligation on private and public sector employers to provide rehabilitation and return to work coordinators to ensure that all measures possible are dedicated to supporting injured workers in their rehabilitation and return to productive work; and
- Implement Construction Safety Inquiry recommendations that strengthen workplace safety.

Procurement

The ACT Government is a significant purchaser of services and a major source of capital works construction in Canberra. As such, its procurement processes play an important role in determining how work is done and to the financial viability of many small to medium size businesses.

ACT Labor will:

- Ensure there is a dedicated unit for contract compliance and enforcement of statutory industrial relations and OH&S obligations amongst ACT Government contractors in Shared Services Procurement; and
- Vigorously audit contracts in order to minimise sham contracting amongst contractors on ACT Government projects.

ACT Public Service

ACT Labor values the dedicated work and active role of the ACT Public Service in the provision of policy and services to the Government and the Canberra community. ACT Labor acknowledges that the bargaining periods for the negotiating of ACT Public Sector EBAs have been lengthening and that this has resulted in long waits by employees for the outcomes of these agreements.

ACT Labor will:

- Commence negotiations for the next ACTPS EBA as soon as practicable after the ACT Election;
- Commit to good faith bargaining as the preferred means for reaching agreement on the ACTPS Enterprise Agreement rather than resort to legislating for public sector pay increases.

Expansion of trades traineeship and apprenticeships in ACT Public Service

The expansion and development of trades skills in the ACT is a major contributor to the deepening and broadening of the ACT economy. As a significant public sector employer and source of much work for the private sector in the ACT, an ACT Labor Government sees itself as having a strong role to play in building economic growth into the future.

ACT Labor will:

- Work to reduce the outsourcing of entry level jobs in maintenance, horticulture, cleaning, waste management and security in order to increase opportunities for directly employed trainees and apprentices in the ACT Public Sector;
- Work to ensure there are agreed minimum levels of trainees and apprentices employed by contractors on large scale capital works projects funded by the ACT Government in order to increase the numbers of qualified trades people in the ACT.

Asbestos

Asbestos has been a matter of growing concern particularly amongst renovating trades people and 'do it yourself' householders. There are small but persistent numbers of Canberrans presenting with asbestos related illnesses. The ACT Labor Government has been very active in the area for much of the last decade with legislation and enforcement.

ACT Labor will:

- Seek affiliation with NSW Dust Diseases Board to provide ongoing expertise for victims of asbestos related illnesses;
- Provide continuous Asbestos Awareness campaigning amongst trades people and householders.

Long Service Leave (LSL)

ACT Labor has pioneered, and leads the country in, the extension of portable long service leave in the building and construction industry, the contract cleaning industry, the community sector and most recently, the contract security industry.

Around 25% of the ACT private sector workforce now enjoys portability within their industry of their LSL. There are still workers whose LSL is at risk due to the precarious nature of their employment.

ACT Labor will:

- Move to provide the same conditions to other workforces and extend the Community Sector Portable Long Service Leave (PLSL) Scheme to aged care workers.
- Move to extend the Contract Cleaning PLSL Scheme to waste workers.

Recommendation

1. That you note the information provided to you in this brief.

Background

2. WorkSafe ACT is currently investigating a workplace incident which occurred at 2.30pm Wednesday, 19 September 2012, in which evidence suggests a 20 year old male received an electric shock whilst working on an extension ladder and then fell approximately 5 metres to the ground, suffering serious injuries.

Issues

3. The building at which the incident occurred (old bus depot, Phillip) is owned by the ACT Government and is currently leased to Exempt s43 and Exempt s43, trading as Exempt s43
4. ACT Property Group contracted Bright Lights Electrical to perform maintenance work on the building.
5. The injured worker is a 20 year old male, 4th year electrical apprentice, who appears to have been working on a roller door at the top of a 5 metre extension ladder unsupervised.
6. Initial investigations suggest the worker received an electric shock from a live electrical wire and fell approximately 5 metres.
7. He was taken to Canberra Hospital and had surgery on the evening of 19 September 2012. On the morning of 20 September 2012, it was reported the worker's condition was critical but stable with further surgery expected.
8. Due to the serious nature of the worker's injuries, both WorkSafe and Australian Federal Police are investigating the incident.
9. ESDD are also involved as the ACT electrical regulator.

Media Implications

14. The Work Safety Commissioner has been interviewed by ABC radio, WIN TV and is scheduled to be interviewed by ABC TV at 2.30pm Thursday 20 September.

15. The Work Safety Commissioner has also been questioned in relation to the tender/allocation of Government work with the lowest priced contractors winning the jobs.

16. It is likely that reporters will interview Mr Neville Betts from the Electrical Trades Union and Mr Dean Hall from the CFMEU.

17. Given the serious nature of the workers injuries it is likely that this incident may draw further media attention.

WorkSafe is heading to a site in O'Connor. We understand that a painter has fallen four metres at a residential site. Has been transported to hospital, by Ambulance, with possible neck injuries. Nothing more known at this point. Will advise further as information comes to hand.

All

Further advice regarding the painter who was injured yesterday is as follows:

- The incident occurred at a residential property – the painter fell approximately 4 metres off a ladder.
- The painting firm, Exempt s43, had been contracted to paint the residence.
- Initial investigations suggest that the worker was painting the rear of the premises and was working alone.

It appears the worker was working at the top of an extension ladder which was located on a slope and to compensate for the gradient the worker had used pavers to prop-up the footing of the ladder.

- ACT Ambulance Services were notified and attended the incident, and the worker was taken to Canberra Hospital and appears to have sustained a broken vertebra in his neck, a broken left wrist and a broken left foot as a result of the fall.
- A prohibition notice has been issued.

Hi Katherine

We normally brief the AG on these matters as well, so thought it easiest to send you a copy of said brief.

Information is attached.

Regards

Luke

Dear Sean/Luke

Just so you are aware – it is our Minister (IR) that is being sent the information, not the Attorney-General. Also we do not need an actual brief, although that would be helpful.

Thanks

Good afternoon Katherine,
I sent a brief through this morning. It's TRIM number is MIN:2012/002758. I understand it is waiting on clearance from our Deputy Director General.

Luke could you please forward a copy of this brief to Katherine when it is cleared tomorrow.
Thank you.

Regards,
Sean

Dear Sean

Sorry to bother you on this – did you have any information for me about the person trampled by a horse at the event on Sutton Road?

Thanks
