

19/283 Integrity Commission Amendment Bill 2019

Summary of impacts

- The proposed amendments will ensure that the commencement of the Integrity Commission will be operationally sound. It ensures that fundamental and critical processes and procedures can be established prior to the Commission being able to receive any complaints.

Key to impacts: Red – negative, Blue – neutral, Green – Positive.

Social

Nil impact.

Economic

Productivity

- Productivity gains are likely to be made through these amendments. Through the provision of a split commencement, the Integrity Commissioner will be able to establish processes prior to the commencement date of receiving complaints and notifications. These will provide safeguards in processes and ensure that all complaints can be dealt with in a timely manner.
- The alternative is likely to result in some delay in the Integrity Commission responding to complaints received. This is due to the Integrity Commission not having adequate time between its commencement and the commencement date of receiving complaints.
